OVERVIEW OF UNIT:

In the 11th grade English/Language Arts program, students will develop an understanding of how literature reflects cultural values, through exploration of literary and informational texts, with special emphasis on cultural archetypes. To demonstrate their understanding, students will produce informative and narrative responses as well as participate in collaborative discussions. Throughout the year, the 11th grade program addresses the essential question: “How do literature and other forms of expression convey and shape a culture’s values?”

Unit 1 focuses on literature (both literary and non-fiction texts) as vehicles for expressing ideas and values, and addresses the essential question: “What is the connection between a culture’s values and its forms of expression?” Throughout this unit, students examine literary and informational texts to determine the texts’ significant themes or central ideas, and to better understand how formal conventions and expectations can support the text’s purpose.

Students demonstrate their understanding of the cultural meaning of texts by constructively engaging in whole-class discussion and small-group activities, and by composing at least two essays analyzing the expression of cultural values in a text.

Thematically, the Heroes and Antiheroes course is structured in units focused on archetypal characteristics of the hero figure and their relevance to the modern world. The thematic focus of Unit 1 is the mythic nature of hero figures and the use of supernatural or superhuman features to expresses cultural ideals.

The Survey of Western Humanities course is structured in units that examine the historical development and continuity of humanistic values as expressed through literature from ancient through modern times. Unit 1 of this course examines the ancient Greek and Human eras, focusing particularly on the use of mythic and supernatural features to convey cultural values.

ESSENTIAL QUESTION
What is the connection between a culture’s values and its forms of expression?
